

What Does the Spring Festival Mean to us

By Hu Xiao from Accounting 0950

The Spring Festival is the most important festival for the Chinese people. It falls on the 1st day of the 1st lunar month. Almost all Chinese people are fond of the Spring Festival. Not only is it time for all family members to get together, but also a time to do many activities.

Children like Spring Festival most. They can enjoy a lot of delicious food and wear new clothes. They also extend greetings to their parents. Then each child will get gift money wrapped up in red paper. What's more, children can set off fireworks during the Spring Festival, it is lots of fun.

For the teenagers, the Spring Festival is the beginning of a new year, and they become older.

As for the adults and house-wives, it's a busy time. They must clean their houses and decorate the rooms to welcome the New Year. During the Spring Festival, they also prepare big meals.

The old people like the Spring Festival, too. They're pleased to get many greetings. They like their children and enjoy moments with their children around them. It's really a happy time.

The Spring Festival is the biggest festival in China and it is enjoyed by people of different ages. And people celebrate it in various ways.