

New Year's Eve

By Lin Xia from BE0816

From before we can remember Spring Festival has been a significant holiday for Chinese. An important part is New Year's Eve, which brings more expectation and longing to most people. Therefore, each family elaborately prepares everything for new year's eve, and anxiously waits for the clock to strike twelve.

Before New Year's Eve, my mother and I bought many necessary things needed for the Spring Festival. Father purchased a pair of lanterns, and some fireworks. The next thing we should do is to wait for the approaching of New Year's Eve.

When the day finally arrived, I got up early to hang the lanterns on the balcony in order to build the warm atmosphere of New Year. Before 12 o'clock, father and mother have been preparing a big meal for today's New Year's Eve. In the kitchen, appearing a lot of dishes that cannot be eaten in daily life. Waiting and waiting, about 4 pm, our family sat together to enjoy the feast. Delicious food and drinking made us burst into laughter. The moment had arrived, after the meal, father and mother both gave "Lucky money" to me. I cannot express how joyful I felt. In the evening, our family got together to watch the Spring Festival Gala, seeing half of it mother prepared the steaming dumplings. What a wonderful thing! After twelve, father set off firework and firecrackers downstairs, "PingPing PangPang PangPang PingPing" The sound of firecrackers was deafening because every family is welcoming the arrival of Spring Festival at the same time.

New Year's Eve is a lively night that gets most people excited. People embrace it highly and celebrate it elaborately. Especially for the children, delicious food and "Luck money" are wonderful things. What an unforgettable the night!
